About High Level Beach

High Level Beach (HLB) started as a small group of Austin-based players and has since grown into a small syndicate. Players in the group span a range of levels, but typically make appearances at BB leagues and tournaments.

The name is inspired by Devin Sears -- one of the original members. Devin insisted on player "High Level" 3s or 4s any time the group decided to play a round outside of the traditional 2s format. The term quickly became a joke amongst the group and rightly became the namesake of the organization.

The organization boasts a YouTube channel where they post videos from weekly pick-up sessions and the occasional tournament that members participate in. The YouTube channel is managed by Devin Sears and Hagen Fritz. Hagen -- a later addition to the group -- also generates reports (like this) from stats taken on the videos. More about this specific project can be found on GitHub including past reports and the source code.
